IMAGE MODULE
DEMONSTRATION

This demonstration illustrates some of the ways in which you can use graphic images in NextGen.

This has been prepared with EHR 5.6.4.20 and KBM 7.9. Subsequent updates may display cosmetic and functional changes.

Use the keyboard or mouse to pause, review, and resume as necessary.

There is no audio with this exercise.

Note all of the tools at the top of the screen. Anyone who is familiar with using any graphics editor will be able to use these to draw lines, shapes, add text, etc., just as you would in those programs. If you hover the mouse cursor over the tool icon, a popup will tell you what that tool will do. With a little trial and error, you'll be able to do any annotation you feel necessary.

Note that you can also browse to images that you have on the computer desktop, or elsewhere, such as on the hard drive or a USB thumb drive. NextGen can import most common image types, such as BMP and JPG. You can also import PDF files in this manner, which comes in handy if you want to save a PDF document to the encounter.

If the computer is hooked up to a scanner, paper images can also be scanned into NextGen. While this can be done through the Image Module, most commonly this will be done by designated staff members using another tool, the Image Control System.
In this way, any drawing, form, letter, report, or other item received on paper can be saved to a specific encounter on the NextGen chart.
